

Investigation Notes

Location: Hateshigenai

Itinerary

- ❖ Speak with James Davenport concerning his previous research and anthropological history.
- ❖ Docking ship at the airport on the island Hateshigenai, near Mount Toa. Leaving on protection protocol with automaton captain. Distribute supplies to carry and research material for James.
- ❖ Journey to the nearest town 10 miles away, Somatsu, to gather information on the local area.

Notes

- ❖ Passed by 2 shrines already, seem innocuous enough...slightly archaic.
  - Hikaru seems to be praying to them, He's never seemed religious, so they must be something more cultural.
  - Snakes... huge, bloody snakes here.
- ❖ The town of Somatsu isn't very large. There seems to be an inn, a tavern, a sword-smith, a courthouse...several homes from first sight.
  - They seem to stare... a lot. Lots of strange races here, I've never seen so many bestial eyes.
- ❖ At the inn, learn that there has been disappearances over the last several months. A young boy (the son of the innkeeper's daughter), a village elder, and another woman all within the last year; the most recent being within the last few days.
- ❖ Apparently the ship was swarmed with snakes due to our absence. Thank goodness Ms. Trident was onboard during the night to help the automatons keep the ship from being overrun.
- ❖ Need to check my room carefully for any snakes...
